

David Cotterrell: Platform for Urban Investigation

Venue: Island6 Art Space, Shanghai, China

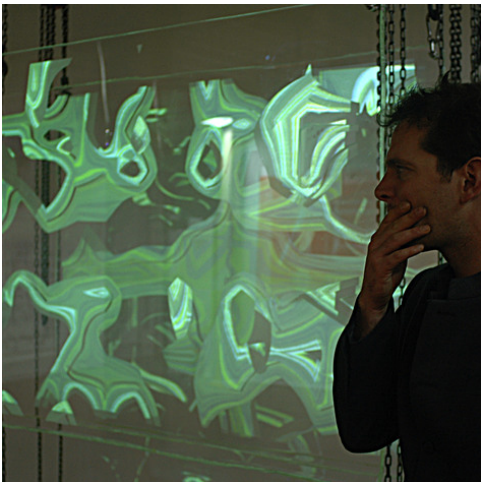

Curators: Thomas Chaveriat (FR) Allard van Hoorn (NL)

Date: 10th May 2006

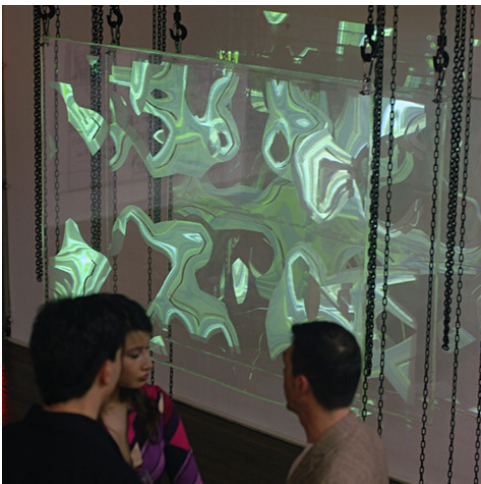

Co-exhibitors:

Jiang Jun (CN) John Ingledew (GB) Lee Walton (US) Thomas Charveriat (FR) Shanglie Zhou (CN)
Jan Van Woensel (NL) Rose Tang (CN) Martin Tzou (CN) Annie Wang (CN) Allard van Hoorn (NL)

On the 13th of May 2006, Island6 Arts Center hosted the first Platform for Urban Investigation, a nomadic research facility that has subsequently been held in various locations around the world: Paris, Amsterdam, Rio and Sao Paulo. The Platform for Urban Investigation was founded to bring together Architects, urbanists, choreographers, dancers, visual artists, musicians, writers, philosophers and curators in research of the urban environment. The exhibition played host to installation, performance, real-time audio and video streamings from all around the globe, essays, photos, drawings, conversations and interviews.

Thomas Chaveriat & Model Junction No1 Credit: David Cotterrell (2006)

Installed at Island6 Credit: David Cotterrell (2006)

Projection on perspex Credit: David Cotterrell (2006)