

David Cotterrell: bbc.co.uk : David Cotterrell - The Impossible Project

bbc.co.uk/dna/collective
Date: 31st October 2003

The work of artist David Cotterrell, in a book.

This is the first book to chronicle the work of the much underrated British artist, David Cotterrell. From his specially adapted fruit machine which gambles with words (10p per go - "I Love You" wins 1.50, "Nobody Loves Everybody" wins 4, etc), to Prototype II (two .45 Magnums firing down each others barrels), via the best thing at Becks Futures 2002, Borrowed Time, when he projected film of an oncoming train onto a ghostly "screen" of dry ice. Perfect. And when/if the accompanying texts from various eclectic luminaries take themselves a little too seriously, you can always look at the pictures.

The Impossible Project is out now, published by Black Dog Publishing.

Jonathan Carter

Page Layout from Article Credit: Jonathan Carter (2003)